

Andrew Benjamin is Emeritus Professor of Philosophy at Monash University and was Anniversary Professor of Philosophy and the Humanities at Kingston University London as well as Distinguished Professor of Architectural Theory at the University of Technology, Sydney. His recent publications include: Towards a Relational Ontology. Philosophy's Other Possibility (SUNY Press 2015); Art's Philosophical Work (Rowman and Littlefield 2015) and Virtue in Being (SUNY Press 2016). He is currently completing two books: Law as Political Theology and On Gesture: Classical and Renaissance Expressions.